"Programs to Mission Field"

1. Read Ephesians 5 together. What are some of your observations about Jesus and the church? In lesson 1, you discussed the mystery of Jesus and the church having the capacity to fill everything in every way. If the church is to carry the fullness of Jesus into every crack and cranny of society, how will that happen?
2. In Ephesians 4 and 5, Paul gives a comprehensive list of instructions for Christian living. Amidst this list of instructions, Paul says, "make the most of every opportunity." For the radically busy people with whom you minister, how is this practical?
3. What would it look like for a church focused on disciple making to see its core strategy as mobilizing everyday missionaries (on their Ephesians 2:10 calling) to unique mission fields where each person works, lives, studies and plays?
4. What are the benefits of this type of approach?
5. How balanced are you between more programs and more missionary fields? Which are you biased toward (which would be more effective)?
6. What percentage of your people in your church/circle have been awakened to their identity as everyday missionaries with unique mission fields only they can reach?
7. What difference would it make in your community if God's people were activated as missionaries to be on mission where they live, work, study and play?
8. What is your definition of a "win" for the body of Christ? How could it better express everyone as everyday missionaries activated in every corner of culture?
